

MERRILL PALMER
SKILLMAN INSTITUTE
for Child & Family Development

Infant Mental Health Dual-Title Program

*The Nation's First Infant Mental Health Dual-Title
Program*

Balances Research with Clinical Skills

Full Academic Integration & Depth of Study

Aligned with Competency Guidelines Established by MI-AIMH

Are you Interested in Social Work with Young Children and Families?

Do you believe...

That the first 3 years of life are foundational?

•

That providing support to parents ultimately enriches the lives of young children?

•

That intervening early can prevent many child behavior problems?

If so, you may want to consider a Dual-Title Degree in Infant Mental Health!

Social workers are ideally positioned to support families through the use of a culturally sensitive, person-in-environment lens.

The IMH Dual-Title Degree prepares clinicians and researchers alike to be well-versed in research and practice. IMH-DT Graduates gain a deeper understanding of applied research and the needs of practitioners, communities, young children and families.

Click here to watch a brief video featuring our faculty and alumni describing infant mental health and the dual-title program

For more information contact: Carla Barron, PhD, LMSW, IMH-E®
carlacbarron@wayne.edu

mpsi.wayne.edu/training/infant-health | (313) 664-2500

