

Artist in Resonance:
Hiroko Lancour at the Charles Lang Freer House

Saturday, Nov. 4, 2017 | 1:00 - 5:00 pm

Paper Sashiko #6: Loquacious Stars, detail

Artist in Resonance: Hiroko Lancour at the Charles Lang Freer House

A special one-day exhibition of art by Japanese born Detroit artist, Hiroko Lancour, in the unique setting of the historic Freer House.

Hiroko Lancour, inspired by the legacy of Detroit industrialist and collector of Asian and American art, Charles Lang Freer, will display her artwork throughout the house. Select works will be available for purchase. Lancour earned an MFA from Wayne State University and has received numerous awards for her art. Visit: hirokolancour.com.

This event salutes the public opening of the DIA's new Japanese art gallery and celebrates the history of Japanese art and culture of the Freer House. Guided tours will be provided.

EVENT IS FREE & OPEN TO THE PUBLIC.

(Please note some sections of the house are not handicapped accessible.)

Non-Profit
US Postage
PAID
Detroit, MI
Permit #3844

THE FREER HOUSE

71 East Ferry St., Detroit, MI. 48202
(Located one block north of the DIA)

For information contact
William Colburn at: 313-664-2500
or william.colburn@wayne.edu

EVENT SUPPORTED BY:

