Coloring Book Call For Artist 2022: Voting is a Superpower Coloring Book

Dear Friends,

Following the success of our 2021 voter education and voter rights coloring book, the Wisdom Institute is producing a Voting is a Superpower Coloring Book in 2022! Will you support us by passing this request on to artists who may have an interest or submitting your artwork advocating the super power of voting?

The coloring book, featuring artwork by African-American artists, will be used to raise awareness of the voting process, to encourage an increase in voter registration and participation of African-American households with children under the age of 13 in the 2022 election. Illustrations are due: May 20, 2022!

Wisdom Institute is an African American woman and girl-focused nonprofit in Detroit. Our mission is to help lift the determination of women and girls to further advance the quality of our lives, livelihood and leadership. We believe the superpower of voting ensures that we have access to clean, affordable water, a lawyer for Detroiters facing eviction and bodily autonomy.

Wisdom Institute is seeking artists of all ages to submit digitized sketches inspired by voters rights, voter education and advocacy issues of water affordability, right to counsel for those facing eviction and reproductive justice. Art should include representations of African American culture. The coloring book will be published and distributed to communities throughout the Detroit area.

Selected artists will receive a stipend and credit for their contribution. If you're interested in using your artistry to advocate for justice, please send an email to: cicelyallen@thewisdominstitute.org. Include on the subject line, Coloring Book Call For Artist 2022. Upon receipt, we will forward submission guidelines and written coloring book content via email.
